Undergraduate Research Advising

In the spring semester of 2017, I embarked on a project to create a children's book for the Cheslatta Carrier Nation in British Columbia. I enlisted the help of two undergraduate students to work with me on this project, and the three of us will be visiting British Columbia in the summer of 2018. Hayley Portell is an Art major. She received a College of Arts & Science Undergraduate Research Mentorship (under my supervision with Mark Langeneckert in Art), which will support her travel to British Columbia in the summer of 2018 to collaborate with the Cheslatta people on the children's book. Maddie Davis is a Photojournalism major and a student in the Honors College. She is the design manager for the project. Her travel to Cheslatta in British Columbia is supported by Research Incentive Funds.

On my 2018 Research Council grant, undergraduate Geography major Casey Carlisle will be paid a stipend to assist with the mapping workshops in Marshall, Missouri as part of our research on cultural integration in Midwestern rural towns experiencing rapid demographic change from immigration.
